Half Day Colonial Quito & The Temple of the Sun Museum

Early in the morning we will go to the northwest of the city of Quito, where we will visit the small town of Calacali, where the equinoctial line also crosses, and where we will find the original monolith that was erected in the name of the French Geodetic Mission and the measurement of the earth in the eighteenth century

Then we will continue to another place in the latitude 0'0'0 " of our planet where we will visit The Temple of the Sun Museum, which will guide us through the wonderful world of Andean cosmovision, culture and traditions.

Quito, founded in 1534 became the first city in the world to be declared by UNESCO in 1978 a World Cultural Heritage site. The visit will take you to iconic places such as the Plaza Grande or Independence Square to have a view of important colonial buildings: The Archbishop's Palace, The Metropolitan Cathedral, The Government Palace, as well as other representative examples of colonial art and architecture as the Santo Domingo Convent.

This sightseeing excursion offers the best of Quito with its rich cultural legacy, ornate facades, and dazzling gilt altars. Quito's Historical Center, the largest and best preserved in Latin America was built over the ruins of the Inca's northern imperial seat. A fabulous example of colonial architecture and art blended with indigenous styles.

Andean Handicrafts & the Otavalo Market- Northern Highlands

An early start departing from Quito will take you due north on a beautiful scenic drive to the province of Imbabura, a magic land located at 2530 m above the sea level surrounded by lakes and mountains of outstanding beauty. The day opens the possibility to learn about the customs of the people living in the area.

The Northern Highlands are the home of the Otavalo Community. The Otavalos are known around the world for their weaving patterns and textiles which pre-date the Spanish conquest. The market is world known for its colorful textiles, woven on back-strap and shuttle looms, its piles of ponchos and hand-made textiles, hats, Indian jewelry and creative handicrafts. This is a unique occasion to wonder through this maze of color and enjoy some fun bargaining and buying great quality handicrafts at superb prices. Close by is the town of Peguche where some of the Otavalo Indians live. Peguche, a picturesque town where its inhabitants are famous for their weaving abilities on hand made looms. This visit opens up the possibility to see the typical houses of the area and their way of living.

Lunch will be offered at one of the many charming Hosterias or Country Inns of the area.
