Exchange Program: The Office of International Programs will cover the cost of Georgetown tuition, GU will also pay for medical insurance and membership fees for the gymnasium for the USFQ exchange students.

Available spaces for academic year 2012–2013: Information sent separately

Costs: The USFQ exchangee will incur the following expenses:

- USFQ tuition (not registration fees) and airfare
  - Room: Averages $4,750 per semester /about $9,500 per year (costs based on Fall 2012/Spring 2013)
  - Board: $665-$2345 semester/or $1330 - $4,690 per year depending on meal plan chosen. (costs based on Fall 2012/Spring 2013)
  - Medical Insurance: GU will cover this expense.
  - Books: approximately $500.00 per semester
  - Special Fees (laboratories, Music, etc.): Georgetown will cover language lab fees. All other lab fees are to be covered by the student.
  - Personal expenses: depends on each student (approx. $400.00 per month)

- Total per semester:
- Total per year:

Requirements: TOEFL score 88-89 (IBT) or 230 (computer-based).

Number of students: 7,500 undergraduate and approximately 5,500 graduate students (approximately 10% of the student body is international).

Web Site: www.georgetown.edu

Important: The following programs do not accept exchange students: School of Medicine, School of Law, Business Administration, Master of Science in Foreign Service, Communication, Culture and Technology (CCT), Public Policy, National Security Studies, School of Continuing Studies.

Restrictions: Students may not take courses in the School of Business or Nursing and Health Studies (NHS - exceptions with GU permission only)

Information to obtain the visa: Students must prove that they have a bank account with sufficient funds to cover the exchange period (approximately $21,751/year or approximately $10,875/semester). Students will also pay the SEVIS fee.
NOTE: if the student applies for a semester only, SPRING should be better because of space available in the dormitories. In addition, the Office of International Programs is limited in the number of students that they may host during the fall semester. Spring is a better option for one semester only students.

DEADLINE: fall and academic year: March 1st

Spring semester: October 1st.